Website Disclaimer

No Legal Advice

This web page and the information contained herein is general and for informational purposes only; it is not legal advice. This web site is only intended to provide helpful information to members of the public in need of an attorney licensed to practice in the State of California. You should consult with an attorney and not rely on any information contained herein regarding your specific situation.

Attorney-Client Relationship

We welcome the receipt of electronic mail. Please be advised, however, that the act of sending electronic mail to the Law Offices of Downey Day, any of its attorneys or staff through this web site does not alone create an attorney-client relationship. We will neither accept requests for legal advice nor offer specific legal advice over the Internet.

Communications Not Confidential

Communication with the Law Offices of Downey Day, any of its attorneys or staff through this web site may not be considered privileged or confidential.

Links

This web site contains links to other sites. When you link to another site, you are no longer on our site and are subject to the privacy policies and other practices of the new site. The Law Offices of Downey Day has no control over and is not responsible for the information, practices or content of these or any other sites and your participation in promotions or services of any kind with any third party found on or through this site, or your correspondence or business dealings of any kind with any third party found on or through this site, including without limitation, payments, warranties, or representations associated with such dealings, are solely between you and that third party.
